expansion to Asia was driven by the desire for spices and Asian luxury products. Its results, however, exceeded the mere exchange of commodities and precious metals. The meeting of Asia and Europe signaled not only the beginnings of a global market but also a change in taste and lifestyle that influences and craft production.

Traditionally, relations between Europe and Asia have been studied in a hegemonic perspective, with Europe as the dominant political and economic centre. Even with respect to cultural exchange, the model of diffusion regarded Europe as the centre, and Asia the recipient,

Conceptions of Europe and Asia as two monolithic regions
emerged in this context.
However, with the current process of globalization these constructions and the underlying models of cultural exchange have come under scrutiny.

For this reason, the book focuses on cultural exchange between different European and

Asian civilizations, whereby the reciprocal complexities of cultural transfers are at the centre of observation.

By investigating art markets, workshops and collections in Europe and Asia the
